

Does your practice company need its own Professional Indemnity insurance?

Take our quiz to find out.

Does your practice:	Tick if 'Yes'
Provide health care treatment, advice or services via a trust, partnership or practice company?	<input type="checkbox"/>
Employ or contract health care professionals, including doctors?	<input type="checkbox"/>
Employ administrative staff to support the doctors and other professionals in the practice?	<input type="checkbox"/>
If 'Yes', are your staff, including doctors, insured by different insurers? Do you know if they are insured, if they are insured correctly or anything about the scope of their cover?	<input type="checkbox"/>
Provide health care services via other companies or from more than one location?	<input type="checkbox"/>
Engage locums and other temporary staff?	<input type="checkbox"/>
Provide services to doctors and other health care professionals for a fee?	<input type="checkbox"/>
Lease its facilities to other health care professionals?	<input type="checkbox"/>
Own or lease machinery and/or medical equipment to provide the services (e.g. diagnostic equipment)?	<input type="checkbox"/>

If you have ticked 'Yes' to any of the scenarios described, your practice may be taking a significant risk if it doesn't have its own Professional Indemnity insurance.

MIGA offers insurance for practices involved in providing health care treatment, advice and services. It insures them against claims made against the entity which may not arise directly from the actions of doctors.
