

Manage your risk and reduce your insurance premiums by 10%

Why is risk education important?

Taking proactive measures to reduce or avoid complaints and claims is far better for you and your patients than dealing with the issues, stress, emotional impacts and possible damage to your reputation that can follow an adverse outcome.

Understanding where risks lie and why mistakes happen is not as obvious as it may seem. MIGA supports you with risk education that addresses known and emerging areas of risk identified from both our claims files and medical literature.

MIGA's risk education

- Our Program runs annually from 1 April until 31 March
